ANTI-TERMITE TREATMENT

One of the greatest hazards any facility owner faces is termites, which cause more damage each year than fires, storms, and earthquakes combined. If ignored, termites can actually threaten the structural integrity of your facility.

Anti - Termite Treatment is performed at various stages and commences prior to the building being erected. The aim of this treatment is to provide a continuous barrier of termiticide between soil and building. The said treatment is usually rendered for construction sites, proposed residential sites and commercial sites, as it a comprehensive treatment for control of White Ants (Subterranean Termites).

Inject diluted chemical through holes drilled through the ground slab. Highly concentrated chemical is sprayed with a low pressure pump in the foundation and all areas deeply. The above mentioned treatment carries warranty period in case of re-occurrence.

PRE-CONSTRUCTION TERMITE TREATMENT

The most effective way of protecting building from termite attack is to establish a chemical barrier in and around the soil surface of the building prior to the casting of footing and ground slabs etc.

POST-CONSTRUCTION TERMITE TREATMENT

To exterminate Termite Infestation from existing buildings or structures, the ground floor soil in and around the building to be treated by drilling holes through floors and wall bases and inject termiticide solutions
